Meals at $10,000 Each

The plan was to decoy the senator to a house in some out of the way part of the city and then demand a ransom of not less than $50,000. IT IS NOT RETALIATION

It can be noticed that there is a disposition in certain democratic quarters to call a halt on Speaker Reed by suggesting that the rules he is now laying down will be used against the republicans in some future congress. Republican papers are tolerably unanimous in telling Reed to keep on in the course he has marked out. Some of our papers think that the republicans take it for granted that the Fifty-second Congress will also be dominated by high taxationists. And so Reed gets a great deal of warning to go slow, being daily reminded that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

It is unfortunate that this serious matter should be looked at in such a light way. The existence of the present House rules is a calamity that should rise above party. Of course we understand that the body of the republican party will follow Mr. Reed; it would do so were he to adopt a rule excluding democrats from the House. But there must be a great many men in the party who are able to distinguish between right and wrong, even in the field of politics. It is to the verdict of such men that we look forward at the coming elections. Reed's rules are sure to revolutionize the possibilities of vicious legislation. We want the honest conservatism of the country to pass upon this question. But if we are given to understand that the democratic policy will be tit for tat, there will be no reason why the better class of republicans should leave their party to support the same objectionable methods of procedure among the democrats.

Mr. Buckalew pointed out a few days ago that the yea and nay vote was provided for by the constitution: and so it followed that if the old interpretation of the requirements of that provision was correct, it was out of the power of any party to adopt a rule allowing the speaker to "see" a quorum on a yea and nay vote. Mr. Carlisle, in his recent address to the public, said that a long and unquestioned interpretation of this constitutional provision had made it a principel of our fundamental law that a majority of the members elect must vote on a call of the yeas and nays in order to make a quorum. If it has become constitutional law, it is hard to see how a rule of the House can change it. Messrs. Carlisle and Buckalew say that it has, and the rest of the democrats have at least acquiesced. It seems that this would fix the policy of the party, and in fact it has been pretty generally understood that this is one of the questions we should take before the country.

And it is certainly a good question for the democrats to take up. The republicans will yell, "a majority should rule." About this there need be no controversy. But the people will insist that if the republicans want to pass important legislation it must devolve upon them to produce their majority. It can be easily shown that the effect of Reed's rule is to establish the almighty supremacy of an absent majority. It must be a losing work to try to bring the people around to any such position. Before this session of Congress has closed we will have some startling exhibitions of the power of Reed's absent majority or present minority. This crowd is bound to dip into some legislation that will smell bad. Before the session closes we will have 100 members of the House passing laws that are odious to the people. The democrats want to be in a position to go before the people in opposition to any such work. Reed has not forced his revolutionary rules through the House just for the pleasure of posing as dictator. The gentleman stands too close to the Blaine and Carnegie band of high taxation beneficiaries. They will show him where he may use his imaginary quorum to the advantage of some infant industry, or rather to the advantage of some man who owns such an industry. The voters of the country will insist that it shall take a present, active and participating majority to pass such laws. If we are to adopt the tit for tat cry, the people will be left only with Hobson's choice in the matter.

And again, there is a great deal of foolishness in the effort to frighten Reed into fairness by threatening him with a future. It is because of this probable future that the barons and monopolists of the republican party are now so anxious to hurry on their work. Had they any hope of a republican majority in the next House they would not now be guilty of such indecent haste. They have both branches of congress, something that they did not expect and something that they cannot hope for again, and now they propose to make the most of their windfall. There is some legislation that the selfish moneyed powers of the country still demand. Some of them regard this as their last chance to get it, and Mr. Reed, representing these classes, proposes that no time shall be lost. Under these circumstances one can easily imagine the effect of suggesting to Reed that the next House will in all probability be democratic. It is a dread and consciousness of this that is driving the big autocrat rough shod through the constitution and over the rights of the people. It is something like this that makes him fly right against his plain words in former sessions. The man is making hay while the sun shines for the fellows who pay in "fat" when campaign times come.

Some one has said that a few high-handed leaders of the republican party have entered into a conspiracy to perpetuate that party's existence. To this end they are willing to steal two senators from Montana, knowing that every republican court in the land will back them up: they propose unheard-of federal legislation to prevent the disruption of a gerrymander which the patriots made in Ohio years ago; they have a committee on elections that will recommend the unseating of every democrat whom Quay chooses to point out; they will surround the southern ballot box with federal bayonets and pretend that it is all for the sake of honest patriotism. To perpetuate themselves in power they are willing to commit every crime known in the political calendar, and they have special rewards for the man who will invent a new crime that can help them.

But in spite of all this they know that the House of Representatoves will go to the democrats as soon as the returns come in from the next election And so if they can not perpetuate the supremacy of the party in both branches of Congress, they will at least seize the present opportunity to give a long lease of life to the policy that is making this young and splendid country the home of tramps and dazzling millionaires. The leaders of the republican party know that they can keep whatever legislation they now put on the statute books there for years. There is the Senate that always stands in the way of repeal. That is the institution that is expected to keep the memory of departed republicanism green. The party can now raise the tax on the necessaries of life and take it off such luxuries as whisky. The people will protest against the scheme at the polls, but the Senate has been fixed republican for years.

Some study of the situation will show the voters the awful importance that is to be attached to Reed's rules. It is not a time to talk of retaliation. It is the duty of democrats to put this whole question before the country. We are not in search of Quay's government by "mailed hand." We want a constitutional government of right in which it will not be possible for a corrupt minority to legislate for the whole body. If the tentacles of greed are to be fastened upon us for years to come, at least let us know that it took more than an absent majority to do the work.

A PROMINENT attorney of the city was heard in conversation yesterday talking about our prospects for a union depot. He went on to say that the only conscience there is about the Illinois Central is to be found in its pocket-book. The road is not in the habit of affording anything like adequate depot facilities. You may travel up and down the whole line and you will seldom meet with more than an old shed. Starting in the city of Chicago, where the road has franchises that are worth millions, you find an old and rootless ruin doing duty for a depot. Up in Bloomington the road has a barn-like structure where passengers are expected to hang around for trains. The attorney called attention to these and other instances of the road's policy in the matter of depots, and then remarked that Decatur would never get anything better than it now has until the directors of the Illinois Central were shown that the city has an alternative.

He was in favor of letting the Central authorities know that the people of Decatur can form a stock company and build a union depot in some other part of the city. There is a very nice piece of property on the south side of the Wabash track between North Main street and North Water. A company can be formed to build a depot on this ground, and arrangements can easily be made to let all roads into it, except the Illinois Central. The Central is now enjoying a very nice revenue from leases of its present tracks and imaginary depot facilities. A new depot in the place indicated would cut off all these revenues and remove the Central from the centre of railroad traffic. The depot indicated would be a good financial investment, and this attorney says that it will be well to let the Central people know that the business men of Decatur are ready and willing to invest in it.

WE would call the attention of the city council to the glorious possibilities of the back number affidavit when it comes to furnishing catch basins for the new sewer system.

The Good Templars have a novel way of securing good programs. The ladies furnish the program one night and the gentlemen the next. A judge is appointed and he takes cognizance of the programs for a quarter. At the end of the quarter he decides which side has furnished the best programs. The side which is beaten has to treat the other side. Ernest Ruehl is the judge, and it is needless to add the ladies never treat. J. H. Rainey and wife go to Arcola next week as delegates to the district lodge from the Forsyth I. O. G. T. lodge.

Ed Thornhill put his goods aboard the train here this week for shipment to Maroa, where he will make his future home.

W. McDaniel has erected a new poultry house, which doubtless will be attractive to the chicken thieves when the next crop of poultry is ripe.

The scholars of the Elwin school are preparing for the central examination of this place on the 24th inst., which will be followed by a grand entertainment in the evening.

Enterprise at Sullivan.

George W. Dalby, a prominent citizen of Moultrie county, was in the city yesterday and in conversation with a REVIEWER stated that the city of Sullivan was being canvassed thoroughly for the purpose of securing sufficient funds to prospect thoroughly for coal. Mr. Dalby as a member of the F. M. B. A. stated that the farmers would meet the citizens half way in the matter of expense. F. D. Caldwell, the enterprising coal and coke dealer of this city, has signified his willingness to donate three acres of land at "The Junction," near Sullivan, for prospecting purposes, and it is thought the matter will be pushed persistently, until Sullivan is supplied with coal dug from her own mines. There is but very little doubt of the existence of a coal deposit, and work to remove that little doubt will be commenced in a short time.

The Forum.

A MONTHLY REVIEW OF LIVING SUBJECTS
By the Foremost Writers in the World.

THE FORUM has won the highest place reached by any periodical; for it publishes articles by more authoritative writers and by more workers along instructive lines of activity than any other publication. It contains eleven studies of great subjects every month. It is impartial, giving hearings alike to each side. It is financially independent, and it belongs to no sect or party or "interest." It is never sensational, but it aims always to be instructive

The FORUM is of great value to that part of my college work which deals with practical politics and current questions. Two sets are hardly enough for daily use by students.—Prof. ALFRED BUSHNELL HART, of Harvard.

I consider THE FORUM as furnishing the most intelligent and sympathetic audience that a thoughtful writer can find to address in any land.—Prof. ALEXANDER WINCHELL, of the University of Michigan.

THE FORUM continues to hold its place as the foremost of our magazines, for the variety, the value, and the weight of its contributions.—THE NEW YORK TIMES.

There has come forward no problem of grave importance since THE FORUM was established that has not been discussed in its pages by masters of the subject. Announcements of forthcoming articles can seldom be made long in advance, for THE FORUM'S discussions are always of problems of present concern. Every such problem that the year 1890 will bring forward will be discussed, whether in politics, or religion or social science, or practical affairs. The January number will contain a reply by Ex-Speaker J. G. CARLISLE to Senator Cullom's recent article on "How the Tariff Affects the Farmer."

Not only that but with each number you get an abundance of other contributions, which gives you a good magazine besides the novel.

The ringing blows which have been struck on the gateway of popular favor, have resounded throughout the entire land, and to day Lippincott's Magazine stands in the front rank of monthly publications, and is the most widely-read-and talked of publication of its kind in the world. The effort required to move the treadle is not more than half that required on the old style machines. This means health saved, time saved, money saved.

MORNING REVIEW

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1890.

MATTERS OF FACT.

Board at Combs' restaurant.

Henry Bros. keep the best bread in the city.

The Big Chicago Cheap Store south of the park, is again open.

Good warm rooms at Combs' European hotel. Go there to board.

If you want a good, clean, wholesome lunch, go to Henry Bros.

A fine line of Florida oranges at Bramble's, 155 North Water street.

Go to Combs' restaurant and European hotel opposite Grand opera house.

The big close out is now on at the Big Chicago Cheap Store, south of the park.

Gold pens, beautiful pearl handles, just the thing for a gift, at J. E. Saxton's book store.

For kid glove oranges, the finest in the market, go to Bramble's, 155 North Water street.

Prudent housekeepers who want to preserve their reputation as breadmakers, should always use Hatfield's flour.

Every one who is in the swim must take his shoes to E. W. Chandler's for repairs. Anything else is bad form. He can be found at the Tabernacle building.

Whenever you hear a song that you like, go to Prescott's and get the music. At the same time you may look at his large stock of musical instruments.

The Hatfield Milling company is now prepared to deliver corn to any part of the city, either chopped, shelled or in the ear. Also, the best flour, bran and shorts. If you need anything of the kind, telephone an order to No. 41, and it will receive prompt attention.

The slaughter has begun and will continue until our entire stock of boots, shoes and rubbers are closed out. We mean what we say—we are going to quit business. We have about 900 pairs of men's shoes and about 1,000 pairs of women's shoes on hand, also boys, misses and children's shoes. Call and get them, they must all go.

BARBER & BAKER.

While you are in the Standard sewing machine office don't allow the bicycle riding of the ladies, gents, boys and girls to occupy your entire time. See and know for yourself the many points of superiority the Standard sewing machine has over all others. Give the Merritt typewriter some notice, and remember we have the best of sewing machine and bicycle oil, also sewing machine needles. You can have various excuses for calling. No charge for admission. No. 110 and 114 library block.

The remark is made, much more frequently than once daily, how I wish I had tried the STANDARD, or frequently, even seen it run before I purchased the (4) step and start shuttle, nerve-shaker I now have. The Standard shuttle makes a stitch for every revolution; loop from needle passing entirely over shuttle and bobbin. Millions of money have been spent trying to accomplish what Mack Bros. have in the Standard; it is the only revolving shuttle sewing machine on the market. Office in Library block, 110 and 114 William street.

Penmanship Prize.

A class in penmanship will be organized at Brown's Decatur Business College on Monday, Feb. 17. Class meets every day from 4 to 5 p. m. Tuition $2.50 per month. A gold badge will be given the best writer at the end of the month. You are invited to join the class.

Young wives who have old husbands will be glad to know that a New York physician offers to cure snoring for ten dollars; but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure sore throat and colds for 25 cents.

For neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, burns, wounds, etc., use Salvation oil. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Bicycle School.

Commutation tickets, $5 for 30 hours of riding; time as you please, 15, 30, or 60 minutes. Persons not holding one of the tickets pay for use of wheel 10, 15 and 25c respectively. Nos. 110 and 114 Library Block, William street.

A Pleasing Sense.

Of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50 cent and $1.00 bottles, by all leading druggists.

Sedative Influence.

Dr. Flint's Remedy, by its sedative influence over the nervous system, is one of the best remedies that can be used to control and cure incontinence of urine. Descriptive treatise with each bottle; or address Mack Drug Co., N. Y.

A Hamburg Fig.

There is no longer need to force children to take caster oil for constipation. a Hamburg Fig, which is like preserved fruit, will be taken by them with relish. 25 cents. Dose, one Fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y.

To Ice Dealers.

Ice 22 inches thick at Worthington, Minn., and Spirit Lake, Ia. Freight to St. Louis or East St. Louis $3.50 per ton. See local agents for rates. For further particulars address Hall & Co., Spirit Lake, Ia.

Hard Coal.

E. L. MARTIN.

Claims amounting to $151.52 were allowed against the estate of I. N. Tyler. Charles A. Wagenseller, special administrator.

Circuit Court.

By the advice of his attorneys George Sargeant, the man from Macon, on trial yesterday for assault with intent to kill, withdrew his plea of not guilty and substituted the one of guilty. He was fined $50 and costs—which amount to $50 more. Sargeant was unable to pay yesterday but made arrangements to pay up Monday, and Constable Midkiff has been employed to take care of the prisoner until that time. Court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning, when motions and arguments for new trials will be heard. The following orders were entered on the docket:

People vs. Michael Rogers: cruelty to animals. Trial by jury. Verdict not guilty.

People vs. Julius Keister and Samuel Rhodes; selling liquor to a minor. Nolle as to Rhodes. Keister pleads guilty to two counts and fined $50 on each count. Keister replevied fine.

People vs. John Ethridge; gaming. Continued alias capias.

A Common-Sense Remedy.

In the matter of curatives whatyou want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no inconvenience nor interfere with your business. Such a remedy is Allcock's Porous plasters. These plasters are not an experiment, they have been in use for over thirty years, and their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities, as well as by voluntary testimonials from those who have used them.

Allcock's Porous plasters are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They require no change of diet and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with labor or business; you can toil and yet be cured while hard at work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the most delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

Allcock's corn and bunion shields effect quick and certain relief.

Hustling Enterprise.

The Republican, in its issue of the 14th, contained an item headed "A Mysterious Death," which appeared in THE MORNING REVIEW of Feb. 7., and related to the finding of the body of H. J. Bourne, of Prairie Home, on the track near Westfield. There is hustling enterprise for your whiskers, my countrymen! There is an item, seized suddenly seven days after it appeared in THE REVIEW, and added to the long list of fresh, reliable "scoops" the South Water street wabbler has furnished to Decaturites. As the advance agent of old Enterprise and Ability, and as the proper person to comment on other people's work, the great scoop reporter of The Republican is phenomenal. No cards.

THIS WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS.

VAUDEVILLE AND BELL RINGERS.

Tuesday night our own Smith's Bell Ringers will be here with a number of specialty artists. Their reputation is well known, and it is attested by such notices as the one below:

"The opera house was jammed to overflowing last night to witness the charming musical entertainment furnished by Prof. Smith's Swiss Bell Ringers. To say that the entertainment was good does not do the company justice—it was excellent. The graceful manipulation of the bells was most wonderful, and the music therefrom charming. The quartettes were rendered in a very pleasing manner. The Humpty Dumpty pantomime was most mirth-provoking.

"THE BRIGANDS."

We are having operas often now, but none are more enjoyable than "The Brigands," as it will be presented by the Grau Opera company Wednesday night. The Chattanooga Times says of the company:

"The Brigands drew a big house and gave general satisfaction. There were several new features introduced by Mr. Grau one among which is a lady musical director who is in every way the peer, if not the superior, of any who ever wielded baton in this city. The opera is awful funny but the music is charming and of a peculiarly high order of merit. The chorus is numerically large and well classified, the solo parts being throughout secondary importance."

"LATER ON."

Saturday evening, Feb. 22, we will have H. Grattan Donnelly's three-act musical farce, "Later On," as presented by the comedians Halfen and Hart. Our exchanges pronounce the farce a great success. The play opens at Seaview Hotel. Of the stars very little need be said for Fred Halfen's joking, dancing and singing, and Joe Hart's comicalities and banjo, will always be sure of a cordial welcome. The play is made up of light musical novelties, dainty dances and marches. The theatre should be crowded.

Williams Bound Over.

Ed Williams, the man stabbed in the back by John Dougherty Friday night, was up before Justice Curtis yesterday to answer to the charge of stealing a shirt. He was bound over, and in default of $50 bail, was taken to jail. He continues to deny all complicity in the stealing of the shirt, and would have assaulted Mr. Dougherty in the court room had he not been prevented.

Attempted Burglary.

Officers Leech and Brockway arrested William Crawford yesterday on North Water street. He is charged with attempting to break into the house of Col. Mathias a few days ago. When arrested he had a cocked revolver in his pocket and a bottle of whisky, and was evidently prepared for snakes, and other enemies. He was placed in jail and will have a hearing to-morrow before Justice Stevens.

Moving the Buildings.

Dick Roberts had a force of men at work yesterday preparing to move the buildings off the property on Main street, recently purchased by the Decatur syndicate. The building bought by J. Bristow, will be taken to South Broadway, near the electric tower, and the other building purchased by William H. Ruffil, will be moved out on King street. Work on the new building will be commenced as soon as spring opens.

S.S.S. TRADE MARK

Mrs. Geo. P. Smoote, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 22, 1889: "During the summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver hopelessly disordered. Nothing late agreed with me. I took chronic diarrhœa, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, but the medicines administered by them never did me any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. In May, 1888, I became disgusted with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all and depended solely on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now."

It Builds up Old People.

My mother who is a very old lady, was physically broken down. The use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) has entirely restored her to health.

A drunken stranger wandered out on West Macon street yesterday and filled the hearts of the ladies in that section with alarm He tried to break into some houses whose owners had gone away from home and when he failed in that attempt he broke everything he could lay his hands on He told one lady that he was hunting the savior, and he must have thought that part of town was the proper place to find what he was after. There were no men at home at the time, and when they did arrive the lecherous scoundrel who had been offering wholesale insults to ladies and scaring the children had escaped

THERE ARE FOURTEEN ASSEMBLIES IN MACON COUNTY.

And the Membership is Nearly 600—Something Concerning the Most Remarkable Growth of This New Farmers' Organization—A County Assembly to be Held March 6th.

It was a year ago Jan 1, that the first F. M B A was organized in this county, and within 12 months 13 different assemblies have been added and the membership in Macon county is almost 600 But few have any idea of the wonderful growth that the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association has attained in a comparatively brief period. At the Illinois State Assembly, which was held at Centralia, Feb 4, 23 counties were represented and the total membership was reported to be over 30,000 E L Weigand and W P Davidson represented Macon county and they are jubilant over the wonderful success that has attended the organization Another meeting will be held in Springfield on Tuesday, Oct. 21

The local assemblies are united in the county assemblies, these in the state assemblies and these in the national, so that a perfected organization has now been attained, and as a result it is natural to expect a still greater growth within the next year The general objects of the movement are well stated in their name and outside of their ideas, which the Grange experiment should have exploded, that the getting rid of the middlemen is one of the chief objects to be sought after, their attitude upon the questions of the day and their proposed reforms, are all in the right direction and are such as should meet the hearty approval of every good citizens Especially can the democrat look with favor upon a movement of this kind, knowing as he does that only investigation of social and economic questions by the farmers must result in advantage to the democratic party

At the last meeting of the Macon county assembly, at Macon Jan 4th, nine assemblies were represented. Since that time five more have been organized, and now a special meeting is called for Thursday, March 6th, at 11 a m, in the court house, Decatur, for the purpose of admitting these new assemblies and transacting other important business Hereafter all meetings of the county assembly will be held at Decatur, and regular meetings are held every three months the next regular meeting coming on Wednesday, April 2d The officers of the county assembly are

President W H Russel, Macon
Vice-President—J H Gibson, Macon.
Secretary—W P Davidson, Macon.

Excursion rates will be obtained on all the railroads entering Decatur, and as a general invitation is extended, it is thought there will be a very large attendance There will be about 72 delegates, as each assembly is entitled to send one delegate at large and one for each 25 members

Through the courtesy of Vice President Gibson and Secretary Davidson THE REVIEW is able to print the following authentic list of the local assemblies in Macon county with their location and number of members

Union, Pleasant View tp	24
Willow Branch Macon tp	50
Dingman Stranic tp	25
Boody, Blue Mound tp	35
Blue Mound Pleasant View tp	50
Pleasant View, Pleasant View tp	25
Center, Macon tp	50
Turner Pleasant View tp	24
Grand Prairie Whitland tp	1
Argenta Friends Creek tp	40
Willow Glen Macon tp	175
Gordon Stranic tp	10
Harristown Harristown tp	16
Boundsale, Hickory Point tp	18
Total	570

The membership is about equally divided between the two great parties, though there is a sprinkling of union labor men, and in Macon township a number of the members are ardent prohibitionists It is altogether likely that in the ensuing campaign politicians will find that they will have to deal very actively with this most formidable organization It is formed for the most part of thoughtful men who know what they want and THE REVIEW understands that candidates of all parties will be subjected to a very rigid cross examination on some of the more important questions of the days and while the F M B A is strictly non partisan it is hardly probably that its members will vote for any candidates who fail to answer these interrogations satisfactorily

At any rate the F M B A will assuredly prove a factor that politicians will have to figure on Six hundred votes are considerable and by November this number will probably be increased to 1,000

Eva and Tom

Uncle Tom's Cabin" was in town yesterday. It made its appearance much after the style of a circus, and wound up with two well attended performances The only thing we missed was the greatest concert on earth after each performance But we had the street parade with flying banners, steam calliops and exposed menagerie There were no cages for the animals, but some of the dogs made valiant endeavors to show that they needed one There was a great crowd out to see the parade, and some of the irreclaimable rustics remained over with their best girls to see the evening performance

And how they did make Rome howl for awhile Some of them were not on to the fact that the usual time to go out and see a man is between the acts They would trot out in the middle of an act, and then try to conceal evidences of their guilt by eating onions It was a great show in front of the footlights, and it is possible that this is the feature that makes "Uncle Tom's Cabin" wear so well through all the long ages.

About the play behind the footlights there is not much to be said Stetson has a play and name that always draws large crowds It seems that he might spend a little more money in furnishing his large audiences with passable talent It may be said that Katie Partington makes a good Topsy, and the two lawyers please the crowd The stage director needs to be pulled up. Little Eva dies at the close of the third act During the fourth act and most of the fifth she passes among the audience for the purpose of selling her photographs At the close of the fifth act she hurries back upon the stage for the purpose of being transformed and ascending into Heaven In a show that is full of realism this should be arranged differently.

An Injured Hip.

S A. Anderson, a tinner in the employ of Sorgen & Son, was holding a horse on North Main street yesterday while the Uncle Tom procession was passing. The animal became frightened, and rearing up suddenly, struck Anderson in the face, forcing some of his teeth through the lip. Dr. Jones attended the injuries.

Logan Democrats.

The democrats of Logan county are workers They are also patriots. They delight in embracing every opportunity to display their two favorite characteristics Consequently it is not surprising to receive an invitation from the democrats of Lincoln to a celebration of the birthday of that glorious old democrat, George Washington. The meeting will be held in Gillett's opera house, Saturday evening, Feb 22, and the principal address will be delivered by A. J. Hunter, of Paris, Ill. It is to be hoped that some of our representative Macon county democrats will arrange to attend this celebration.
